like manner there is little doubt that if the attention of this Government officially called to any flagrant violation of the laws of nations and the usually recognized customs of civilized warfare, uch as the deliberate planting of floating mines in the open sea by either of the belligerents in the Far East, appropriate action will be taken.

Views of Officers.

At the War and Navy Departments officials are not so reticent as those of the State Department, although army and navy officers will not consent to be quoted, an Executive order forbidding them publicly to discuss matters connected with the war between Japan and Russia. All agree that the planting of floating mines in the open sea is an inhuman act which cannot be de fended in any conceivable circumstance. It is recognized that it is allowable for bellig erents to employ any and every kind of pro jectile to destroy each other, but at the same time it is pointed out that belligerents must take ordinary care not to inflict damage on neutrals proceeding within their recognized rights.

An army officer of long service and varied experience, and an authority on military law, said that a belligerent had the right to mine his own harbors and the adjacent waters within the prescribed geographical that he had the right to mine his enemy's harbors and coast in like manner: that he had the right to employ mines at ava against the enemy, but in doing these acts he must take care that injury did not ment.' come to neutrals. When he planted mines in his own harbors notification of that purmust be given that neutral vessels might avoid danger. If he employed miner on the open sea against his enemy, and the mines failed to explode, it was his duty to find and take them up. Any damage result-ing to neutrals from placing floating mines in the open sea was a proper subject for a demand for reparation.

This officer further said that belligerentts also had rights in the open sea, and that one of these was the right to fight. Neutrals must take cognizance of that right and avoid coming within the direction fire or in any manner interfering with the free movements of the belligerent vessels in their efforts to destroy each other.

Mr. Openhym immediately stopped the automobile, picked up the unconscious and, placing him in the auto, started toward Roosevelt Hospital with him. At Seventy-third Street he met Policeman At Coogan, and told him what had occurred. Coogan telephoned to Roosevelt for an ambulance, which responded. Both of the lad's cheek bones were fractured. Later he was taken home in a cab.

Mr. Vogel was seen at midnight, and said though conscious, but that from the count of the accident as given by the boys he did not believe Mr. Openhym y in any way to blame. that his son was in a serious condition, from any other source the report does eceive credence

The Consul in his telegram said his in formation was obtained from Chinese. The War Office has nothing to confirm his report.

The prevailing opinion at the headquarters of the General Staff is that the withdrawal of the Japanese upon Feng-Wang-Cheng means that the enemy has decided to devote himself primarily to operations against Port Arthur, and that the present object of Gen. Kuroki, with the First Army, supported by Gen. Nadya, with the Third. Army, (now landing near Taku-Shan,) is to watch Gen. Kuropatkin and prevent a move uthward, which would take Gen. Oku and the Second Army (on the Liao-Tung Peninsula) in the rear.

A direct attack upon Gen. Kuropatkin's main force is apparently not considered to be impending. Nothing more than outpost affairs are anticipated, although some of these may be quite sanguinary.

The Russian scouts are keeping in constant touch with the enemy, and thus far the minor shiftings of the Japanese detach-ments west of the Tayang River and northward of Mol-Ting-Ling are considered to be in the nature of screens.

If the two armies of the Russian Commander in Chief are trying to work a force around in the rear of Gen. Kuroki, or are planning a surprise, of course the fact is sedulously concealed here.

Uneasiness is displayed at the near approach of the rainy season, which will retard if not completely stop field operations, although this plays directly into the Run sians' hands. The Russians will continue to hold Niu-Chwang, Kai-Chow, and Tashi-Chow until a move in force is made toward Hai-Cheng with the object of cutting off the retirement of the force at Kai-Chow. which is sufficient to stand off an ordinary force of the enemy and discourage the landing of troops there

Apparently there is good warrant for the belief that Gen. Kuropatkin has a strong line extending south from Liao-Yang and west of Hai-Cheny, protecting an advance upon Kai-Chow and Niu-Chwang.

BERLIN, May 24 .- Col. Gadke, telegraphing from the Russian headquarters at Mukden on Sunday, states that the Japanese advance against Liao-Yang has come to a standstill.

The recent events before Port Arthur combined with the unsuspected strength of the Russians, in the Colonel's opinion determined the Japanese to abandon the advance.

The telegram concludes with the following enigmatical sentence:

"Henceforth the prospects of the Japanese are poor.'

There is little doubt that the author of the concluding words is the Russian press censor.

By The Associated Press. TOKIO, May 24 .- Gen. Kuroki reports that a section of Japanese infantry encountered and defeated 200 Cossacks at Toutao-Kou, eight miles northeast of Kuang-Tien. The Cossacks fled to Al-Yuang-Pienmen, leaving twenty dead. The Japanese sustained no losses.

Additional details of the light at Wang-Chiatun, near Taku-Shan, on May 20, Indicate that the squadron of Cossacks was almost annihilated by the Japanese infantry, which surrounded and completely routed the enemy. All the Russian officers were killed, wounded, or captured.

Natives report that some of the Cossacks escaped on foot, abandoning their equipment. Many killed or wounded were found on the battlefield.

LIAO-YANG, May 24 .- It is reported from a Chinese source that the Japanese have evacuated Feng-Wang-Cheng and are occupying villages in the surrounding territory. There is no explanation of this move, but it is thought that it may be connected with the prevailing cholera epidemic.

There is continual skirmishing between the Russian cavalry and the Japanese. Cossacks are harassing the Japanese in the hills and by-roads, generally driving them back

The general plan of the Japanese has not been divulged. They are apparently making time, awaiting the arrival of reserves from Korea, who have been delayed owing to the impassibility of the roads.

Troops continue pouring into Lizo-Yang. Dysentery in a mild form has broken out south of here.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 24 .- The following dispatch from Gen. Kuropatkin to the Emperor, dated May 23, was received today Our cavalry outposts on May 22 and May 23 observed a movement of a portion of the Japanese forces westwardly along the Hai-Cheng Road near the village of Daliandiaputse, six miles from Feng-Wang-Cheng.

'On May 21 a Japanese detachment, consisting of six companies of infantry and three squadrons of cavalry, attacked some sotnias of Cossacks on the heights on the right bank of the Sedzi River, near the village of Pouteikha. When the engagement began the Japanese cavalry remained un-der cover and the infantry, which declined to cross the valley, maintained a distant and almost harmless fire without sparing ammunition

'A small party unsupported tried to cross the river for the purpose of turning our left flank, but was driven back by the charge of half a sotnia of Cossacks and the fire of the sotnia occupying the heights. Toward evening the Japanese retired. Our osses were ten Cossacks wounded.

Details of the engagement May 20 and 21 at Sitkhoutchindza have not yet been as certained."

LONDON, May 25.-The Daily Telegraph's Niu-Chwang correspondent says Gen. Kuropatkin is determined to check the Japanese at Liao-Yang, where probable the greatest battle of the war will be fought.

The Correspondent of The Morning Pos at Mukden says it is reported that Gen Rennenkampff's Cossacks captured two Japanese transport columns, thus leaving the Japanese Army without supplies in a difficult country.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, May 24 .- The meetings preliminary to the Democratic State Convention, which will begin to-morrow, were unusually animated to-day owing to contests from the larger conventions involving two hundred delegates and nine members of the committees that are se-lected by the twenty-one Congressional Districts. The State Central Committee assed on these contests.

The net result was that the Hearst mer won only the Twelfth District and the Conservatives the eight other Districts involved contests. The anomaly was presented of the old friends of John R. McLean, James Kilbourne and Tom L. Johnson, the last three Democratic candidates for Governor in Ohio who have never co-operated before, combining against the recent organization of Hearst men in this state.

It is generally believed that the Conservatives offered Johnson the naming of two delegates-at-large. Johnson is advocating Folk, of Missouri, and the proposition to let him name two of the delegates-at-large is considered very significant. Johnson is himself a District delegate to St. Louis and it is said that he has half a dozen other District delegates with him for Foll if they are not shut off by the unit rule, on which the Conservatives are insisting

The Johnson delegation from Cuyahoga county was seated unanimously by the State Committee. This action was construed as meaning that both sides are courting the favor of the Mayor of Cleveland.

The thirty-five Hearst delegates from Franklin county were seated by a vote of 15 to 6. This was a sensational turn of events, as the other delegation was supporting Col. James Kilbourne for President and the action of the Committee gave a hostile delegation from Kilbourne's home county.

Borough President Martin W. Littleton of Brooklyn is to make the nomination speech on behalf of Judge Parker in the St. Louis Convention, according to one of the lieutenants of Senator McCarren last night. Confident that they will control the State convention for the nomination of State oficers, the Hill-Sheehan-McCarren men, which means the Parker men for the present at least, have already undertaken to select candidates who in their opinion will appeal to the voters. From sources very close to the heads of the State Democratic organization it is learned that Assembly-man Palmer of Schoharie, minority leader in the Assembly, will be nominated for Atorney General. Assemblyman John Pallace, Jr., the only Democrat to carry the Fourth Monroe District twice in its history, is said now to be the choice for Secretary of State. George A. Indicted Promoter Disappears and His $23,000 Ball is Forfeited. As Dr. Richard C. Flower, the mining promoter who is under five indictments for grand larceny, failed to appear in Gen-search for the promoter and did not know whether he was above or below ground. A bench warrant was then issued for Flower's arrest, and judgment on the bond was filed with the Sheriff later. Mrs. Cornelia Storrs, widow of ex-Deputy Controller Storrs, who had furnished the bond for Flower, was among the victims, having previously, she says, lost the sum of $200,000, which she had invested in Flower's defunct Blue Ridge Mining Company.

Justice Storrs, her brother-in-law, called up the District Attorney's office yesterday and said Mrs. Storrs had complete faith in Dr. Flower and would pay up the amount of the bond. Subpoenas were issued for Flower's wife, his son, Jewell Flower, and his daughter-in-law to appear in court and give testimony as to the whereabouts of Dr. Flower. Mr. Sweet immediately went to the scene and told Gompers that he had come to whip him for insulting his wife. Gompers replied that he had not insulted Mrs. Sweet, and that the original cause of the trouble was pure accident, for which he was sorry. Mr. Sweet was not satisfied, however, and

Charles Dabb of the Navarre asserts that Mrs. Smith left the hotel suddenly about five weeks ago, owing him $271 for board and rooms and money loaned. He said she left a trunk and a hat behind, and that the runk was filled with discarded clothing. Mrs. Smith declared in the station that er arrest was an outrage, and that she left the hotel because of a difference with

Mr. Dabb. She said she was waiting for a remittance from Columbus, Ohio, and could pay anything she owed. Her brother, a broker in Columbus, Ohio, she said, managed her estate and she received regular remittances.

The woman was arrested in Fourth Avenue, between Twenty-ninth and Thirtleth Streets. She was walking with a young man who she said was her nephcw. She had a small dog that she said was worth had a small dog that she said was worth $1,000. The young man left her when she was arrested. She told the detectives, they say, that at the time of her arrest she was on her way to visit the sexton of the Church of the Transfiguration. Since she left the Navarre, the police say, Mrs. Smith has stopped at the Gilsey House and the Hotel Aldine, at 431 Fourth Ave-nue, near Twenty-ninth Street. The police say that at the Hotel Aldine they were told that the woman owed $200 there for five weeks' board. Mrs. Smith's son was arrested at Twenty-ninth Street and Broadway. He said he was thirty years old and that he lived at 45 South Street, Newark, N. J. At the station house he refused to make any statement. Mr. Street, Newark, N. J. Spring Street, just east of Hudson Street. There they found waiting in a room behind a saloon several hundred workingmen. Mr. Curran told what had happened. When he announced that the last conference had been held and that it was a fight to the end he was greeted with prolonged cheers.

Among several speakers who followed legate Jennings of the freight handlers' local organization in Jersey City. He announced that the Pennsylvania was in league, as far as traffic was concerned with the New Haven system, and upon his recommendation it was decided by Mr. Curran that a mass meeting be held in Jersey City to stir up strike feeling against the Pennsylvania.

We shall call out our men on their lines immediately," he said later, "if they continue to handle New Haven freight."

When asked what had occurred at the ference with Capt. Miller, Mr. Curran said:

"We offered the management every concession we could possibly make to keep our men from the streets. We were even willing to forego the question of the discharge of Assistant Foreman William McCarthy. We felt that the man was too small a proposition to consider and to keep our men on the street for. We were willing to have all the men go back to work and to take up the grievances with the officers of the line and those interested in the companies, and then, if we could not come to a definite conclusion, to allow the whole question to be settled by arbitration, the members of the board to be composed of persons not interested in the company or the strikers, we to abide by the decision rendered.

"It seems that the company desires to fight it out. It would not listen to our reposition and it seems to have agreed to a fight and not to take us into consideraion at all."

Mr. Curran was asked if he would call the teamsters out.

"No teamster will handle the company's freight after he understands the situation," he replied. "We are all union men."

Pressed for an answer, Mr. Curran added The teamsters will come out if I say so." Mr. Curran then told of the telegrams ent to Boston, New Haven, Fall River, Bridgeport, and Providence, calling out the freight handlers.

"I estimate," he said, "that there are 3,000 of our men between here and Boston and 2,800 in Boston. All of them will be out to-morrow."

Agent Heffernan of the Firemen said that no general strike of his union had been ordered along the New Haven system. but that 1,000 men, including ollers, had been called out in this city. It was explained that ninety-eight had gone out in the morning from various boats on the rivers and along the New Jersey shore, iemanding an increase of wages from $40 to $45 a month, eight-hour shifts, and better food than was furnished them before. Mr. Heffernan said they had been working sixteen or more hours a day.

In consequence of the firemen's strike the road's boats were tied up. At the office of the Eastern Division Superintendent, O.' N. Shepard, in the Grand Central Station, it was admitted that no freight cars had been transferred from New Jersey to Mott Haven all day and only a few on Monday. "On the passenger transports Express and Maryland," added Mr. Shepard's sec-

Copyright, 1904. THE NEW YORK TIMES. VIENNA, May 24.-A number of reports have reached Vienna recently in regard to hitches in the mobilization of the Russian reserves, and it is asserted that the journey of the Czar to the provinces more than a week ago was due to the fact that his presence at Kharkoff and other military centres was necessary in order to overcome the difficulties experienced by the military authorities in inducing the regiments to start for the front

To-day a Polish journal at Cracow publishes a dispatch from Kieff stating that on Sunday, May 15, the Kieff garrison was suddenly turned out, and as soon as the men were formed up all the Jews, one-year service recruits, and those knowing how to read and write were called from the ranks and sent back to the barracks.

The remainder at once marched to the railway and were entrained for Kharkoff, Kursk, and Poltava, where disturbances had broken out among the reservists. This information is confirmed by another Polish journal of Lemberg this evening.

in the provinces, in regard to the war. "Already," says the Russ, "there are people who despair for the future and are ready at any moment to cry for peace. Everybody professes to hope for some sort of victory which might enable us to put an end to the war without less of honor, but the utmost they expect is a

HOW SHE WATCHED & MURDER. Mrs. Taylor's Daughter Went to Bed

Before Crime Was Completed. MONTICELLO, N. Y., May 24.-The story of the murder of her stepfather, Lafayette Taylor, by her mother, Kate Taylor, on Jan. 26, 1903, was told on the stand to-day by Ida May De Kay, fifteen years old. She charged her uncle, Peter Yerkins, with being an accomplice. Mrs. Taylor, who is on trial for the second time, wept as the girl told of the crime. Miss De Kay said: "I was in bed and was awakened by a shot. I got up and went into the next roor and saw Lafe Taylor holding the door leading to the kitchen with one hand and trying to pull on his boots with the other.

"I went through the door into the kitchen and saw my mother trying to get the door open and get at Lafe. I went out on the stoop for a few minutes. When I returned I heard a second shot in the kitchen, and went in and saw my father's body on the floor, with my mother standing over it with a revolver in her hand trying to fire it again."

She said Mrs. Taylor reloaded the revolver and placed it in a stand drawer. Mrs Taylor then rushed to the stoop, grabbed a lighted lantern, and swung it aroung three times, and came back into the house. Peter Yerkins then came into the house and asked if "Lafe" was dead. Mrs. Tay-lor answered "Yes."

Miss De Kay then gave an account of how her mother and her uncle cut up the body. While Yerkins was at this work Miss De Kay left them and went to bed. When she arose the next morning Yerkins had left, but her mother was still employed in the same way. Miss De Kay watched her proceedings, and gave a gruesome ac-count of the disposal of the various parts of the body.

On cross-examination, she said: "Once Lafe Taylor drove us from the nouse in the middle of the night with a big knife, saying he would murder us. We went out into the snow without shoes or stockings, and walked over to Mr. Mai tin's, where we stayed all night. On other occasions he chased mother with an axe threatening to cut her head open." "Why didn't you tell that story on the former trial, instead of waiting for a year to tell it?"

"I was afraid to tell, because Pete Yerkins told mamma and myself if we ever told any one he was there and he got arofficeholders. rested, when he got out he would kill us both."

Today We Announce the Wanamaker

This means that we have provided many thousands of pairs of stylish and desirable Summer Shoes, for men, women and children, of the sorts that probably nine people out of ten would have selected at full prices, and are offering them at most substantial savings in cost, right at the moment when many thousands of people are ready to buy. Many of the bargains are most remarkable; but on the average

The Shoes Are Worth a Half More Than You Need Pay for Them Many of the shoes are in lines that have been made up specially to our order; but made between-times in the factories when they did not have other work; and set aside, to be shipped in to us, for this Summer Sale for which we have been preparing. In addition to these large, full, regularly assorted lines, at special prices, we have many odd lots, where the assortments are not so complete; but where the bargains are still greater.

All the shoes are well made, of good, solid, honest leathers, or of finer leathers that are worthy and well made up. It is a sale that saves you money on exactly the shoes that most people want—as timely as the savings are decisive. Read on:

Men's Shoes

Men's Stout Lace Shoes, $1 400 pairs of box calf lace shoes: round toes with tips: shoes that we have sold at $1.50, although worth $2; sizes 6 to 10.

Men's Velour and Kid Lace Shoes, $1.50 Box calf, kid and velour calf lace shoes, that were made to sell at $2.50. We have sold them readily at $1.90; now, to clean them up, they're $1.50.

Men's Tan Calf Shoes, $2.40 Fresh, stylish tan calf lace shoes on a Potay last; welted soles at two-thirds their real value: all sizes to start, 6 to 9.

Men's High-grade Shoes, $2.85 From our own stock, where they sold at $3.90 and $5. Ox-fords and High Shoes, in various shapes and leathers. Sizes are broken, but the aggregate is large, and early comers are pretty sure of a fit in any style they fancy.

Men's Oxfords at $2.20, worth $3

Patent leather Oxford Ties, made on Duke last, with weited extension soles; nobby and popular. Black velour calf and kidskin Oxford Ties, made on conserva-tive lasts, with medium extension soles, weited and stitched. Tan Russia calfskin Oxford Shoes-the swagger Cadet last with rather narrow toes, but full across the ball. Soles are weited, and have full extension on outer edge.

Men's Lace Shoes at $1.90, worth $2.50 Black kid Lace Shoes, on narrow toe-last, with weited soles; comfortable, and the best $2.50 shoe we know, at $1.90. Box call Lace Shoes, with heavy single soles, weited and stitched; just the sort for general wear in city or country. Would be very cheap at $2.50.

Women's Shoes

Women's Oxfords and Slippers, $1 A thousand pairs here at a dollar, that are worth $2 and $2.50. Nearly all sizes in a dozen different styles. One of the best bargains of the season.

Women's Fancy Slippers, $2 Reduced from $3.50, $4 and $5, and as pretty as ever they were. Some Oxfords in the lot, and the slippers are just what you want for Summer dances.

At $2.60, worth $3.50 Black Ideal kidskin Button Boots; welted soles, stylish last.

At $2.60, worth $3 Kidskin in six good tot-shapes, including the full, plain com-monsense toe; all the sole leather is oak tanned, and the details are carried out equal to shoes costing a half more.

At $1.90, worth $2.50

Kidskin in various styles, made for us during dull seasons, and now in good supply. Better than most $2.50 shees, for they are made of genuine kidskins, with oak leather soles, and are Good-year welted. No shams in their making—vamps run clear under the tips, insoles are solid leather, heels are solid lifts, not scraps; and they fit as well as the most expensive sorts. Widths A to E, all sizes.

Women's Oxfords at $2.60, worth $3 The new style Blucher and Oxford Ties, made from japanned kidskin-the best of the shiny leathers. Arched last, high Cuban Women's Oxfords at $2, worth $2.50 Kidskin, with kid and patent leather tips; and all patent leather with straight tips: soles are of oak leather, welted and stitched, hence pliable and durable. Lasts are those used for high-priced shoes.

Women's Oxford Shoes At $1.90, worth $2.50

A special lot of black Kid Oxfords, with welted soles; made on a particularly neat last; all sizes.

At $1.50, worth $2

Oxfords of all patent leather, with narrow toes, high Cuban neels and thin flexible soles. Kidskin Oxfords, with patent leather tips; arched last, high eels, medium-weight soles, Kidskin Oxfords, with patent leather and kid tips; turned oles, toes of medium widths, heels military shape; all sizes, and

"We foster our other industries," he said, "and I don't see why our shipping should not get the same treatment."

Brothers Married Sisters Same Day.

EASTPORT, L. I., May 24 .- Shirley and David Baldwin, brothers, to-day married Gertrude and Viola Baldwin, sisters, at the home of the brides, at Wading River. The brothers met the sisters at the same time. The couples started this afternoon for a trip to New York.

A man rushed into the Tenderloin Police Station early last evening, breathless, in a state of high excitement, and told Sergt. Boettler that he was being pursued. He said that he was a physician, living somewhere on or not far from Fifth Avenue. He appeared, to be between thirty-five and forty years old. Who's pursuing you?" asked the Ser-

The man darted out of the station house. The woman was at his heels. He hurried to Seventh Avenue and boarded a car. The woman followed. The man jumped off at Thirty-ninth Street, and so did the wo-man, but when he entered a saloon she decided to give up the pursuit. Later the woman, who would not give her name, said the man was a well-known New England physician who had married her a year ago and had deserted her a few days since. She heard he was at a New York hotel and had found him there. She de-clared that she would not pursue him any more and inquired the way to the Grand Central Station.

Ex-Speaker Henderson's Nephew Killed. Special to The New York Times

SAN DIEGO, Cal., May 24 .- Donald Henderson, the twelve-year-old son of Walter J. Henderson and a nephew of ex-Speaker J. Henderson and a nepnew of ex-speaker David Henderson, died at the family home at Chula Vista to-day as the result of an injury received while hunting early this afternoon. The boy, with a sister, had gone hunting rabbits. In getting over a fence his weapon was discharged, the shot tear-ing his whole side open. The sister and a hired man carried the boy to the house. An operation was attempted, but was un-successful.

THE LAW AND THE STRIKE.

The settlement of the New Haven Railroad freight handlers' strike is altogether a matter of the enforcement of law and the preservation of order. The freight handlers employed about the docks of the Sound steamboats of the New Haven line went on strike because their demand for the discharge of a nonunion foreman, a faithful man long em ployed by the company, was refused. This was, of course, an ignoble and dis graceful occasion for declaring a strike. and the behavior of the men was made more indecent by the fact that in strik ing they violated an agreement made only a few weeks ago. They are unskilled laborers, and of course their places can be, have been, quickly filled. The freight business of the New Haven Company will go on as usual if the new men are permitted to do their work without molestation. The strikers can succeed only if through the failure of the colice to prevent acts of disorder they succeed in killing, maiming, and intimidating the freight handlers who have taken the places they deserted.

It at once becomes apparent that Po lice Commissioner McAboo has, in connection with this strike, functions to perform that are of great importance to the community. Putting it briefly, bis chief function is to show the strikers that this is New York, not Chicago. In Chicago every strike quickly degenerate into a riot, the law seems to be suspended, scenes of violence and carnage ensue and ruffians are the only rulers. Whatever else may happen here, these things must not happen, and it will be well if Police Commissioner McADoo gives the strikers plainly to understand, at the very outset, that violence is one of the methods which it is not open to them to employ.

The Commissioner of Police has nothing whatever to do with the merits of the quarrel between the New Haven Com pany and its men. With the preservation of order he has everything to do. The police made a bad beginning on Monday. when a truck driver removing cases of goods from a Sound steamboat pier wa

ing of the new session of Congress let us | frank contempt. have both sides of it. There are also shipowners of foreign lines who can give significant information as to the effect cf the subsidy plan on business.

-EXPLOSIVE MINES AT SEA. "Outcries against the Russians are premature so long as we do not know whether they have done what they are charged with-namely, sowing mines broadcast in the open sea. The Hatsuse may have been destroyed by a mine accidentally adrift-perhaps by a Japanese mine." Thus The Evening Post of yesterday. The Evening Post of Tuesday does not. seem to be in possession of the news of Monday. For on Monday THE TIMES printed the dispatch by wireless telegraphy from its correspondent on board THE TIMES'S steamer Haimun, which is the basis of all the agitation on the subject in London as well as in New York, including Admiral DE HORSEY's letter to The London Times and the editorial remarks of that journal. The correspondent reported that his own steamer had, the day before, passed two of these mines adrift, floating within six miles of Wel-hal-Wei, quite across the Strait of Pe-chi-Li from Port Arthur. At the same time he gave currency to the report that launches and junks had been sent out to drop mines, at night or in fogs, in waters likely to be used by Japanese warships and transports. It is quite true that the fact has not as yet been established, according to legal rules of evidence, by confronting the persons accused with the witnesses against them. and allowing them the privilege of cross examination. But it is mere trifling to adduce that defect in proof. The fact of the drifting mines is as well established as any occurrence of the war which offers a subject for comment, and upon the same sort of evidence.

Equally irrelevant is The Post's sug gestion that protest against the setting adrift of explosive mines upon the high seas comes with " uncommon ill grace from Englishmen and Americans, "since it was they who, at The Hague Conference, consistently opposed the various proposals to diminish the destructiveness and cruelty of the weapons and methods of war." What on earth has that to do with it? Nobody objects because the Russians sent a mine against a Japanese battleship, which sank her. The point is that they have been setting afloat explosive mines, on the chance that they may sink the ships of their enemy, which are equally liable to sink the ships of innocent third parties who have nothing to do with the quarrel. This is not a ques tion, as The Evening Post seems to think. of mitigating the horrors of war for the belligerents. It is purely a question of the rights of neutrals as against belligerents.

If the question raised by the action of the Russians in sending explosive mines adrift upon the high seas had been brought before The Hague Tribunal there can be no doubt how that tribunal would have decided it. For no tendency of international law is more clear and marked than the tendency to enlarge the rights of neutrals and to compel belligerents to sisted. wage war with the least possible interference with the peaceable pursuits of nations not engaged in the war. As was said by an Englishman at the time of the Trent affair, " brickbats have not the right of way over peaceable traffic." The action of Russia in setting adrift mines which might destroy Japanese ships, but which also might destroy neutral ships, is an intolerable infringement of the spirit of international law. The nation which has guage: the greatest interest in resenting it and resisting it is Great Britain, as the greatest shipowner of all the nations. Perhaps we come next, or next after China. in the waters in which these mines have been set adrift. Certainly we come next in the great ocean into which those mines are liable to drift. And what British or American representatives may have happened to say at The Hague Conference about dum-dum bullets or submarine old story is to be told again at the open- | ment manifested by passengers with For this disagreeable and discreditable fact undoubtedly the managers of the roads are primarily responsible. Courtesy and enforcement of courtesy or even of decency are not effectively required of conductors. The exercise of them is not rewarded, and the omission of them is no serious disadvantage to employes. What nominal requirements there may be have little effect. We do not say that things would not be worse without such requirements, but they obviously do not prevent a really bad condition. If the conductors were called to account for failure in these directions as sharply es they are for failure to be on time, for failure to collect full fares or for permitting injury to property, it is quite certain that better behavior on the cars would be promoted and maintained. It seems a little harsh to say that the degree of rudeness prevailing is due to the low standard of manners entertained by the managers, but it is substantially true. If the managers valued decent manners in their employés decent manners would be secured far more generally than now they are.

Undeniably there are considerable difficulties in the way. The chief is the fact that the cars are undermanned and the conductors overworked. One man in a car at all crowded, who has to collect fares, direct the stopping and starting of the car, and watch that no one is hurt in entering or leaving the car, is likely to have neither the time nor the temper to be very polite or to supervise closely the manners of his passengers. The number who do a good deal in this direction is remarkable, but of those who ignore it is probably larger, and they do not in the east seem to fear that they will suffer on that account. If on each car in the more busy hours there were one conductor to see to the starting and stopping, and one to collect fares, distribute passengers and watch their behavior, a radica change could soon be made, especially fi the managers of the road made it certain that excellence in supervision and in personal conduct were duly considered. In short, though they will not like to admit it, the managers could, we are convinced, have much better manners on their lines if they really wished.

The particular advantage in the arrangement we suggest is that with it it would be possible to detect and repress the beginnings of ill-conduct, and so to prevent its getting worse. The mere fact. for instance, that passengers were promptly warned of the consequences of spitting on the floor or the fact that they were obliged so to sit as to give the greatest convenience to their fellow-passengers, or the fact that they were prevented from blocking the doors, any one of these, if it were kept up, would soon impress the average passenger with the necessity of behaving himself and with the will and ability of the conductors to make him do so. That point gained, the rest would be comparatively easy. And the proof of this is that instances do occasionally occur when an alert, goodtempered, and determined conductor handles a carload of passengers in precisely this way. There is no reason why they should not all do it, if the managers in reason. It was a destructive, a repressive, an unsafe, and impolitic decision which the business of the country could with difficulty have tolerated. It is permissible to say these things now that a Justice of the Supreme Court, who concurred in the opinion, has since admitted that the reasoning was unsound. It was not to be expected that the court would actually by a majority opinion reverse itself. It went as far as dignity would permit in that direction, however, and the general construction put upon the Northern Securities case is that it shows the court to stand 41/2 to 41/2 upon the principles involved. We think, therefore Vice President BROWN will with difficulty find warrant for his theory that the clamor of the public influenced the mind of the court. Four of the Judges certainly paid no heed to clamor of any kind. Justice BREWER evidently communed with his own reason and took account of public policy.

THE "END SEAT."

Occasionally some eccentric person writes to the newspapers denouncing as "hog" the passenger upon a street car who takes advantage of his priority to pre-empt the end seat and forces later comers to pass him instead of moving up to make room for them. Really, there are two sides to that question. The end seat being by hypothesis the more eligible why should not the rule of first come first served apply to it? Why should tardiness here alone be held to confer a privilege, and the earliest sitter be successively moved up by his successors un til he is driven to the other end seat, from which, when he comes to disem bark, he has to graze the knees of all the later comers?

At any rate, the disposition of man to make himself as comfortable as the conditions of transit in New York allow is far from being a giant evil demanding that the powers of the Board of Alder men shall be brought to bear upon it. De minimis non curat lex. But Alderman STAPLETON does care, and the contemplation of the early passenger who catches and holds the end seat has so wrought upon him that he has introduced an ordi nance aimed at this malefactor. If he shall refuse, being requested, to move up, then, if Alderman STAPLETON has his way, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars or by imprisonment not exceeding six months or by both.

Presumably the double sentence is intended to be imposed upon violators who are not merely contumacious, but beamy, and therefore especially offensive when It comes to crowding six persons into a bench which will hold five and "accom modate" four. When Alderman STAPLE ron's project of law emerges, if it ever does, from the committee in which it is now quietly inured, its emergence should be the occasion for a field day of eloquence in the board. But the conclusion of the debate, we judge, will be that the pre-emption of end seats is not so intolerable a grievance that the legislative powers of the municipality should be inoked to redress it.

Differing Views as to the Remedy Elevated Trains Also Attacked

To the Editor of The New York Times: It seems to me that the lawlessner sting on the East Side as manifested by the wanton stoning of automobiles is on a par with the lynching in Southern States. The magistrates who let off ant bile speeders, who are of the wealthic with an insignificant fine, have aroused the indignation of the classes (whose children are principally the victims of these reckless drivers); and when the parents, mostly ignorant, hot-tompered foreigners, see that they can get no redress from the m they, like the lynchers, take the law into their own hands. Lovely! There are too few policemen in the crowded New York to police properly park drives on Sundays, so that the pedertrians have to wait at the crossing Intil emboldened by sufficient numbers to make dash into the lines of vehicles that speed by with haughty indifference to the rights the public.

But there are plenty of policemen to act as an escort to the poor frightened automobilists, so their passage through streets of the city may be made safe for them. The automobilist must be encour-aged and protected or else he might loss his nerve and not be able to run edestrians with the proper amount of cong troid.

The recent parade of the automobilistat roved that the racers simply were unable to keep to the speed limit required by laws and disgusted participants withdrew from the parade because for once the law was pected.

Yet arrest one of these racers and he will olemnly tell the magistrate, not only that was not going faster than he should. but that his time guage was fixed so that it was utterly impossible to exceed the legal limit. The way to prevent stone flinging is not to send a flying wedge of olicemen to protect the most law-defying lement of New York life, but for the maglatrates to imprison instead of imposing paltry fines. THE BUCKET-SHOP EVIL.

Without a Telegraph Service There Could Be No Such Thing.

To the Editor of The New York Times: Why do not the press of the United States take advantage of the present state of public opinion, which has taken away vice of the Western Union from the poolrooms, and turn the searchlight upor the identical service bucket shops obtain from the same Western Union? A wholesome public sentiment exists against this evil, which is worse by far than the pool room evil. The bucket shop encourages gambling among the young, the idle, the thoughtless, and is indirectly and directly a nursery of The amount of money lost in bucket crime. shops that otherwise would be diverted into legitimate circulation is enormous. And the evil is widespread, hardly a city or small town of any size but is afflicted with this cancer in the body politic. It is gambling pure and simple-simply hetting on the fluctuations of the great Exchanges. Not a share is actually bought or sold. And the public is fleeced mercilessly. Unfortunately, it is the clerk, the small merchant, and the man who can least afford to lose that is enticed into the than gambling hells. The writer knows of one merchant who confessed to losing in a bucket shop $40,000 he had inherited from his father. Without question, the moral standard of American life is deteriorating and the bucket shop is contributing its ful share toward a false standard of living. set upon, beaten, and his goods thrown into the street. Atonement for this first lapse was promptly made, however, for It was observed yesterday that an abundant force of police was on duty along the water-front. The policemen carried their night sticks. If the New Haven Company with adequate police protection should be unable to fill the places of the men who went out it would have to make terms. If the company fill the places of these unskilled workmen that ought to be the end of the strike. At any rate, any attempt on the part of the strikers to win their fight by lawless means ought to bring down upon them consequences that will serve as an instant and memo rable admonition that Chicago methods cannot be employed here. It is outrageous that the business of this community should be disturbed or threatened by a strike ordered to compel the discharge of an honest and faithful workman. That in addition to business annoyance the public peace should be disturbed carnot at all be tolerated.

BOLSTERING THE SUBSIDY SCHEME. When the Merchant Marine Commission was proposed in Congress we expressed the opinion that it was intended to be simply a means of collecting material to promote the ship subsidy scheme, and that it would be very difficult to make of it a real investigation into the question of marine transportation.

The meetings of the commission nor taking place in this city show that this view was entirely correct. They are being devoted exclusively to the arguments of men who wish for money from the Treasury, directly or indirectly. Mr. CLYDE begged for fat mail contracts and for bounties on building and on operating ships. Mr. NIXON thought that we ought to have discriminating duties, that is, instead of hiring Americans to carry freight, he would tax American importers for having freight brought in by foreign ships. Ex-Admiral BowLES of the Fore River Shipbuilding Company agreed with Mr. CLYDE that the Government should. pay for building ships and pay for running them. In all these plans the tax payers are left out. Their sole privilege is to furnish the money.

We hope that before the commission has finished its hearings the minority members will ask that shippers and importers who have practical knowledge of the conditions of ocean transportation property of the companies such effort is shall be called upon to explain so far as possible the actual situation and the ness, unless directed to themselves, the changes that subsidies to builders and owners would bring about. torpedo boats has nothing to do with the case.

Several of our valued correspondents. some of them strangers within the gates of New York and of the United States, have recently confided to THE TIMES their conviction that the manners of the passengers on the street cars in this city are bad, and that those of the railroad employés are much worse. Some of these observers insist that manners of both these classes, the riders, and, so to speak, the drivers, are much better abroad and that behavior with which we are familian would not be tolerated in London, in Paris, or in Berlin. In a general way we fear that our critics are correct. Sweeping statements are unsafe, and for every observer that reports aggravated cases of rudeness and selfishness there could, of course, be produced many others who have not seen them. But there is far too much illconduct; it appears, on the whole, to be spreading; there is certainly more of it in New York than in most other large cities of the Republic, and a great deal more than would be permitted in the rigidly regulated towns of the Continent of Europe. It is not universal. One might travel for days on some lines and se very little of it. On other lines it is pretty constant, especially in the crowded hours. The worst feature of the situawith its eyes upon the Constitution and tion undoubtedly is that there is very little effort made by the employes of the roads to control it. Unless it goes to an almost riotous length and endangers the usually perfunctory. For ordinary rude conductors seem to have rather sympa-

WHICH WAY? In an address before the Illinois Manufacturers' Association Mr. WILLIAM C. BROWN, Vice President of the New York Central Railroad, ventured the conjecture that in the Northern Securities decision the Supreme Court took account of public opinion as well as of the Constitution and the law. We quote Mr. BROWN's lan-

It is not impossible that the language of the majority of the Supreme Court in recently deciding an important case may, in the light of the years to come, seem eflect the clamor of the public rather than the calm, judicial review of a great quesion by this exalted tribunal. If the Supreme Court was really swayed by public clamor, which way was t swayed? That feature of the decision which has attracted most attention was Justice BREWER's reversal of himself which in the circumstances practically amounts to a notice that the court would never again declare to be an unlawful restraint of trade, and therefore void, a contract which did not restrain trade at all. It is, in fact, the general opinion that another Northern Securities case would not be decided in the same way. Manifestly, the court has receded from the extreme position of the Trans-Missouri Freight Association decision. Jus tice BREWEB concurred in that opinion, but in his individual concurring opinion in the Northern Securities case he confesses that, having been induced by able and exhaustive arguments of counsel to re-examine the principles involved in preceding cases, he thinks " that in some respects the reasons given for these judgments cannot be sustained; instead of holding that the Anti-Trust act included all contracts, reasonable or unreasonable, in restraint of inter-State trade, the ruling should have been that the contracts there presented were unreasonable re straints of inter-State trade, and as such within the scope of the act." No proof was allowed to show that the Northern Securities merger was in fact not unreasonable, not at all a restraint of trade. If a similar case were to be heard on an action begun in the District court it might have a very different ending before the Supreme bench. At any rate, it would appear that if the statutes the Justices of that bench kept their ears open to catch the note of public comment, it was not Populist clamor that they beeded, but the sober voice of an industrious, reasonable, and law-abiding people. The reasoning of the ard decision was a denial of some of the fundamental principles of as well as a curious problem, but it ought momentary fame in many pers by "rediscovering the lost art of tem-pering copper." That is always the way of putting it-the lost art is rediscovered, and never is the art discovered. And yet, so far as we know, copper, though often hardened sufficiently to carry a cutting edg for a short time, was never "tempered" in any true sense of that term. There is to be sure, a very general impression that one or more of the ancient nations did tem per copper so that it served many or all of the purposes served by steel, but anybod who has that impression, when asked upon what facts, or even upon what claims, he bases it, is instantly up a stump, from which he wriggles down-when he get down at all-by saying that he "thinks it was the Phoenicians. But the museums which possess many relics of one sort o another, supposed on authority of one sort or another to be Phoenician, have no Pho nician tools of tempered copper, and, what's more, they have no tools of tempered cop per, ancient or modern, from any part of the world. If such tools had ever existed they would have been about the most dura ble treasures of their possessors-vastly nore durable than iron-and certainly the

would not all have disappeared when thing as likely to perish as paper and human flesh and bones have lasted for severa thousand years. Now, is there for this widespread belief in the ability of the ancients to temper copper any foundation except the fact that the ancients though presumably without tools of steel yet accomplished in the various indus ries, particularly that of stone-cutting about as difficult tasks as we can under take with the help of the more versatile metal? We are aware of no other groun for it, and ask for information. We have demanded this information several times before, but never received the sought-for light. Incidentally-to put the text last or once-it may be worth while to reveal that the Denver papers, which are expected to know just a little about metallurgy, are announcing in the traditional phrases that one D. LEMON has at last rediscovered the ost art of tempering copper, and that he is going to illustrate his achievement at he St. Louis Fair, to the wonder and satisfaction of all the world. We wish Mr. on well, but, with all due respect to the Denver papers, we never expect to hear again either of Mr. LEMON or his "rediscovery" of a thing that never was discovered.

-Belleving, as she says, that " the es sence of beauty is mystery," Lady VIOLET GREVILLE complains with bitter grief in The London Graphic about the deep-read ing and far-spreading revelations as to feminine habiliments that are now made by the pictures of advertisers and the displays they arrange in the windows of their shops. Lady VIOLET GREVILLE-whose extreme delleacy of mind is put beyond the question even of heartless cynics by her choice of a subject for public discussion-moans that there is nothing mysterious nowaday about the most intimate of toilette and intricacies, and she thinks that there ore there is no more beauty, or at lea that it is essenceless. She also thinks that women should rise in their might and some how or other impress upon the shop-keep-ing mind the impropriety—that is to say the unprofitability—of spreading wide a knowledge that should be kept as closely confined as possible. This is a dependence ible. This is a da

Sweeping Streets Without Flushing

Them. To the Editor of The New York Times.

The wide dissipation of dust from street sweeping is a serious danger. It cannot be anything else, unless the spaces to be swept are first flushed. In Berlin, as I observed on a visit a few years ago, the brooms never are drawn across a dry asphalt street. Our boasted system seems indeed lacking in the very essentials of the operation. As for the lungs of the poor sweepers-the consequences are obvious enough

Imperative Orders.

From The Philadelphia Press, There has recently joined the First City Troop raw recruit, with whom the other members of hat organization have been having a good deal of fun. Among other defects the new recruit had of fun ever been on a horse in his life, and the drill was anything but a recreation to him.

The recruit, however, was no sconer in the sadlie than he was hurled heels over head through the air and came down to the ground so hard that the breath was almost knocked out of him. "Here, you!" should the Sergeant, when he scovered the new recruit spread out on ground, " you dism

British Wheat Vanishing. From The London Globe. During the last five years the acceage un

wheat in the United Kingdom has diminished, it appears, by very nearly 25 per cent. Official information shows that the shrinkage was continuous throughout the quinquennium, and that it affected Scotland and Ireland as well as England. Neither favorable seasons nor unfavorab made any difference; lower or higher prices were equally inoperative. The inevitable equally inoperative. The inevitable inference is consequently, that more and more farmers an nually discontinue wheat growing as a profitler branch of agriculture. made out of her story of the same name that some years ago appeared in Harper's Magazine. The story, it will be remembered, is that of a young Chinese wife, educated by the missionaries, who becomes infatuated with a young English officer, and in her hus-band's absence makes love to him while he is being nursed for an accident under her roof. The young man is innocent, and is in love with an English gift at home. But the Chinese husband, unexpectedly returning, puts the worst construction on the situa-tion, and with stole and hardened cumling poisons a delleacy which he offers the young officer with a show of hospitality, killing his wife as she is weeping over the body. In the story there is a moment of gruesome, blood-curdling tragedy. The stage version suffers from the crude-that characterized "Pretty Peggy." One tense meiodramatic moment it has which, with the accompaniment of the weird and fantastic Chinese music played by the or-chestra, an actor of imagination and mag-netic emotional appeal might make much of. It cannot be said that Mr. Lorraine, who played the part of the averaging hus-band, rose to the occasion. The stolcism with which he received the report of his wife's infidelity seemed more like indiffer-ence, and the harted with which he mixed the poison lacked intensity and malignity. Still, there was appeal enough in the story to excite intense interest in the audience, and make the little melo-tragedy the hit of the bill. NOTES OF THE THEATRES.

for a minute, and then the Recorder, ad-dressing Mr. Dill, asked: "Do you, sir, expect me to fine myself 20 and costs in favor of Mr. Wren?" "May it please the court," replied Mr. Dill, "Your Honor forgets the costs. Your Honor issued two summonses against Mr. Wren in this case and the costs in each would be $3; therefore I think Your Honor would do about the right thing if you fined yourself $26 in Mr. Wren's favor."

If you they yourself eso in ar, then a favor." The Recorder turned to Mr. Goodell: "You got me into this," he said, reproach-fully. "If that is the case," suggested Mr. Dill, "Your Honor, as issuing the summons, and Mr. Goodell as drawing it, might di-vide the fine. Then it would cost you only $13 each."

ears.

If that is the case," suggested Mr. Jill, "Your Honor, as issuing the summons, and Mr. Goodell as drawing it, might divide the fine. Then it would cost you only $13 each."
The Recorder pondered the suggestion for several minutes and then talked to Mr. Goodell in an undertone.
"Buppose," he began, with the air of a man who has seen a great light, "suppose that I fine Mr. Wren $26 and make things square?", "In the first place, Mr. Wren has not been placed the law only allows a $15 maxhmum fine in these case."
"All that was taken down by Mr. Denglet, which was promptly taken when the accorder pased the law only allows a $15 maxhmum fine in these case."
"All that was taken down by Mr. Denglet, which was promptly taken when the accorder said he guessed he would have to try Mr. Wren anyway.
As first witness the policeman who made the arrest was colled. He said that he made out Mr. Wren's auto number as the machine went by at 30 miles an hour but didn't see Mr. Wren in it. There was no further testimony on either side, and the Court Suggested that as the balance stood in Mr. Wren's fis and $20 stores, and the seconder suggested that as the balance stood in Mr. Wren's fis and $20 stores, and the store to a cacefed, whereupon the Court fined Mr. Wren $15 and $2 stores, and then started to adjourn the case."
"Mr. Dill, 'said the Recorder, with as much dignity as the headache from which he wants by mais conding action by the Court of Common Pleas."

EUGENIA BURCH SET BACK Winner of Jockey Club Race Was Disgualified for a Foul.

FOUR FAVORITES DEFEATED

maxing things happened in every race at the Morris Park course yesterday, but the most astonishing occurrence of the day was reserved for the fourth event, the key Club's weight for age race, won by Eugenia Burch, but awarded to Dolly Spanker, after the disqualification of the inner and unquestionably the best horse. nia Rurch, heroine of a sensational alification two years ago at Morris Park after a head finish with Meltonian, suffered the same fate yesterday. The fault for which Eugenia Burch was set back was crowding on the first turn, notoriously the worst furn on any race track of East, and a place that all efforts of managers have failed to improve. Euronia Burch was in the middle of the field, and had a right under the rules to keep her course, but switching around the turn, she jostled the horses closest to her, Major Daingerfield, who was in the middle of the crowd, suffering most, dropping back to last place. From that point on to the end Eugenia Burch and Dolly Spanker alternated in the lead until they were in the stretch for the run home, where Eugenia Burch came away and won in a big gallop from Dolly Spanker, who was her only competitor at the end. The riders, however, were called into the stand by the Stewards. and after inquiry into the jostle Eugenia was ordered disqualified, and the stakes and bets went to Dolly Spanker, as the result of a scrimmage that is dupli-cated every time a field of horses runs around the same sharp turn.

J. R. Keene's Toboggan ran so bad a race in the mile and three-sixteenths handicap last on the card that his chances now appear to be poor in a field such as the Broeklyn Handicap will bring out. Toboggan was top weight, and the only excuse hat can be made for him is that Odom, who rode him, tried too hard to wait with Toboggan died away under a pull, while Colonsay made the running. Brigand came on at the finish and fought it out with Colonsay, who won by a head at the long odds of 25 to 1. The race for the Amateur Cup, one mfle, for horses ridden by gentlemen riders, ex-cited great interest, though it did not stimalate the betting remarkably, about all the money bet going on either Girdle, ridden Ambrese Clark, or Kilogram, ridby Mr. Lewis, Both Mr. Clark and Lewis were in haste, however, and with Mr. Valentine on Dapple Gold, went out at the start as if they were riding a quarter race. Under pressure Kilogram and Dapple Gold were the first two into the strutch, where both began to stop, and the 60 to 1 chance, W. B. Fasig, ridden by Mr. Nichols of the Meadow Brook Hunt Club, closed under the whip and won by three paris of a length from better horses, sim-ply us the result of his rider's patience.

The Meadow Brook Hunters' Steeplechase made another pretty race, and was won in Taylor, and the pretty race, and was won in handpoint style by J. E. Widener's Coligny, who, however, was lucky in get-ting the victory, as Agio, ridden by Mr. Taylor, and Tom Coogan, ridden by the heggo professional jockey, G. Green, fell. Green was unconscious for a time, but re-covered quickly, while Mr. Taylor had his pellar bone fractured. Summary:

HORSES IN FINAL TRIALS.

Crowds Watch the Brooklyn Handicap

Work-Outs-Waterboy's Gallop. The final workouts for the Brooklyn Handicap were responsible for the largest morning attendance of the year at both the Gravesend and Sheepshead Bay race courses yesterday. At the Gravesend course the most noted horse worked was Hermis, who established his right to consideration by winning a sensational and fast race at Morris Park on Saturday. Hermis was sent the distance of the Brooklyn Handicap, one mile and a quarter, and, galloping under restraint all the way, finished easily in 2:14. The work was thoroughly satisfactory, however, as Hermis in his race Saturday proved that he had all his old wonderful speed. Walter B. Jennings's Proper also was tried over the distance of the com-ing race, and finished well in hand in 2:10½, after having galloped under restraint all the distance. It was only a breeze, as Trainer Jennings said, and, though Proper is one of the long chances of the race, the trial made an excellent impression on the horsemen who saw it.

At the Sheepshead Bay race course watchers waited in vain for Brooklyn Handicap rses, but had the satisfaction of seeing Hamburg Belle, who recently was declared out of that race as the result of an accident to her in a morning gallop, out for the first work she has had since she struck herself. She is so far from broken down that she gave her rider all he could do to restrain her when she took a half speed realion.

restrain her when she took a half speed gallop. Waterboy also was out for work, and galloped a mile in 1:31, tugging against the bit all the way, and looking the picture of health and strength. The champlon of the great late stakes last season is go-ing so well now that there is still a belief among horsemen that he may be ready for the Suburban Handicap, though no effort is being made to hurry his preparation for that race, the Brighton Handicap having been selected by Trainer A. J. Joyner as the goai toward which he is being pointed.

FAST MILES TO SULKY.

Monte Carlo Trots in 2:17 at Empire City Track. Gen. Brayton Ives caused somewhat of a ser ation at the Empire City track, Yonkers, yester day, by driving his $20,000 trotter, Monte Carlo, 2:07¼, a mile in 2:17, the last quarter being covered in 0:33%. The performance was done in the presence of a number of members of the New York Driving Club. It was the fastest mile that had been shown on the track this year until Jack Curry, the trainer, got up behind the pacing gelding Dry Monopole, 2:0614, and sent him a mile in 2:15. Curry also drove the pacer Thin a mile in 213. Cutty and give the pacer Prince Alert, 1:57, a mile in 2:23, the last quar-ter in 0:32. Charles T. Lloyd, President of the New York Driving Club, worked his black trotting gelding Malzour several fast miles, and Gen. Ives's marte Norah McKinner, 2:124, that was defeated by Swift 2:07, for the trotting championship last year, trotted a couple of miles in 2:19.

Bofinibert, owned by George F. Johnson, has een declared out of all his engagements for the pring, and up to the close of the Sheepshead ay meeting. The declarations include Bonni-ert's engegements in both the Brooklyn and uburban Handlcaps. Leonidas, entered to run for the Belmont states to-day, took his final work for that race it the Morris Park race course yesterday, where is galloped a brisk mile before the opening event. McChesney, top-weight for the Brooklym Handl-cap, and one of the favorites for the race, was reported to have gone slightly lame after his work for the race Monday. Dr. Sheppard, the velerinary surgeon, examined the horse after he had cooled out, and yesterday stated that there was no real trouble and that there was re-

Summer Quarters Secured at Manhasset Bay Yacht Club. MOTOR BOAT RACING PLANS

> More Records Looked for in Decoration Day Contests-Many Entries in Fast Speed Classes

Members of the Automobile Club of America will enjoy the privileges this year of the Manhasset Bay Yacht Club, near Port Washington, L. I., as one of their Summer country clubs. The special Country Club Committee appointed some time ago to select sites for country club privileges has completed its work, and its re-port, which has been adopted by the Board of Governors, will soon be made known to the members, with the conditions upor which the country clubs may be used. Be-sides the Manhasset Bay Yacht Club, another club in Westchester County, on the north shore of the Sound, will also be available for the members during the Summer. The difficulty of securing one club that would meet all the requirements demanded by the members of the Automobile Club of America led to the selection of two clubs for this year. This arrangement is only temporary, as it is the plan to purchase land in the near future and perhaps erect country club of their own. The use of the Manhasset Bay Yacht Club has met with unanimous approval of the members of the Automobile Club who own motor boats. Many members have such boats, and others are having new boats built that are expected to develop fast speed. The official mile course established under the auspices of the American Power Boat Association has been laid out in the bay opposite the Manhasset Bay Yacht Club, and this will be peculiarly advantageous to the Automobile Club mem-bers who are anxious to classify the speed limits of their boats correctly. Several boats owned by members of the Automobil Club are already at the Manhasset Club, and others will arrive later in the week.

The Manhasset Club promises to be one of the most active centres this Summer for motor boating. The first big race of the season will be held thereon Decoration Day inder the auspices of the American Power Boat Association, and Anson B. Cole, Secretary of the association, said yesterday that the entries were coming in very satisactorily. He expects to have from twenty to thirty motor and automobile boats in the different classes, J. Herbert Carpenter, the new Chairman of the Auto Boat Committee of the Automobile Club of America, said vesterday that he was compiling a list of the club mem bers who own boats and who expect to have them at Manhaisset Bay. Early in nave them at Mannasset Bay. Early in June he hopes to arrange a list of events for the season. The entries for the Decoration Day races at the Manhasset Club will close on May 29 at the clubhouse. The fast automobile boats will be in classes by themselves, and it has been stated quite confidently that at least two or three boats in these classes will attempt to establish new mile records.

ROWING CLUBS TO BUILD. Metropolitans and Bohemians to Erect

Buildings on the Harlem.

Plans have been prepared for the new boathouse of the Metropolitan Rowing Club, to be built on the site of the old house, which was destroyed by fire a short time ago, in McComb's Dam Park, and contracts for the building are to be let at once so that work may be started early next month. It is believed that the house will be ready for occupancy by Labor Day.

The new house will be 50 feet wide and eighty feet deep, and will comprise a main game was scheduled, Pittsburg against Boston. The champions kept up their recent good form, and for the second consecutive time shut out the Eastern team. In the American League the results made several changes in the championship record. New York's creditable victory over St. Louis placed the home team second, and Philadelphia's defeat by Detroit caused "Connie" Mack's men to drop back to fourth position. Cleveland's win from Washington and Boston's success in their contest with Chicago elevated Cleveland to third place, and caused Comisky's nine to take fifth.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Greater New Yorks Shut Out St. Louis by Good All-Round Play.

Chesbro's fine pitching and the vigorous and excellent support he received in the field were entirely too much for the St. Louis team to overcome at American League Park yesterday, and the visitors, fresh from their successful trip to Boston, were beaten by the score of four to nothing. It s never a small matter to keep such batsmen as Burkett, an ex-champion; Heidrick, Hemphill, and Wallace from driving the ball out of all range, but Chesbro yes terday kept the quartet down to three hits, Burkett receiving credit for two and Hemp-hill for one of chance in the seventh inning. Pelty, too, had good command of the ball, and the eight hits scored against him were all singles and well scattered. Of the fielding, it was one of the most ineresting all-round exhibitions given at the Greater New Yorks' grounds this season Fumbles by Padden and Keeler were the only errors of the game, and some of the chances were unusually difficult. Burkett drove two vicious balls to left field, but Anderson caught both after a long run. Williams made a brilliant one-handed stop of Hemphill's hard hit in the ninth inning, and Hill, Burkett, and Jones performed and Hill, Burkett, and Jones performed deeds of praise. Thoney scored the first run of the game in the third inning. He hit safely to left field, ran all the way to third on McGuire's single, and scored while Padden and Jones were doubling up McGuire and Chesbro. In the seventh inning Anderson got first on Padden's fumble, and tallied on Conroy's bunt toward first and Ganzel's long fly to centre field. Keeler made the third and last run in the eighth inning on a base on balls, a neat steal, and Fultz's single to left field. The score:

The Smoker Is the Gainer---

THIS is the fact that stands out prominently in the enterprise of the United Cigar Stores.

Our purpose from the outset has been to improve the conditions of the retail cigar business-to cut out the multiplicity of "in-between" profits and expenses, that have kept down the quality and kept up the prices of cigars under the old methods. In short we set out to give the smoker the 'true value that his money should buy.

We think that we have done pretty well: we hope to do better still, and we will. How well we have succeeded so far is manifested by several things. One thing is this great successful business you see everywhere, and another is the kind of cigars you find in these stores-good deal better cigars for your money than ever befere. One of the best things we have been able to do is to sell the West Side's Tennis Matches.

Play was begun yesterday in the annual tennis championship tournament of the West Side Tenals Club on the courts at One Hundred and Seventeenth Street and Amsterdam Avenue. The entry list for both the singles and doubles shows great strength, as there are a number of the old college champions among the number. This includes Hugh Tallant of Harvard, Shepard Homans and Frederick B. Alexander of Princeton, J. A. Allen and Harold H. Hackett of Yale, 5. A. Allen and Habora A. Hakett of Tale, O. M. Bostwick, C. C. Kelly, Dr. A. Wards-worth, and Stephen Millett. Robert Le Roy of Columbia University is entered in the doubles as a partner of Kenneth Bulkeley. The best match of the day was that in which Frederick B. Alexander and Edwin P. Fisher won in straight sets from F. L. Slade and Dr. H. Howell. The summary:

THE FINANCIAL MARKETS LAKE SUPERIOR SETTLEMENT. TOPICS IN WALL STREET

Stocks Reactionary; Call Money Easy, 1 1-4@1 3-4.

Stocks Decline Upon the Same Sort of News as Accompanied Monday's Rise-A Traders' Market.

Those who reckoned that the bank statement was good for a three days' rise were mistaken. A little selling by London was the ostensible cause for cutting its career short sooner than even the bears had reckoned, and thus the question is raised again whether such relapses as yesterday's do not do the market more harm than rises like Monday's do it good. Further demonstrations that the public is not in the market, and will not follow prices up, would seem to be superfluous. Neither is there any need of further proof that education has done its perfect work, and that stories of pools and amalgamations and rumors of peace where there is no peace, are not the sort of thing to start ahead the wheels which were turned backward by distrust springing from quarrels and depressing conditions which were not fictions. From the standpoint of the room trader it was an excellent thing to mark up Steel on Monday and mark it down on Tuesday. There were scalpings both ways. But as a device to revive confidence in the property's condition and prospects it is a poor offset to such accounts of conditions in the iron trade as appeared in THE TIMES'S columns with ample confirmation in many quarters. Yesterday's tape confirmed rational previous opinion that a few hours' traffic on pleasant Summer Sundays is more than offset by a larger number of decreases on stormy Winter days, reinforced by an interest account which must grow for years to come, and which works twenty-four hours a day, rain or shine, Summer or Winter.

It would be invidious to go through the list with specific explanations for such movements, since they were not responsive to the day's news any more than the rise was responsive to Monday's news. Those who think the rise was le gitimate and based upon intrinsic conditions may think it worth while to explain the fall upon similar news. But those who think that Monday's rise was meretricious, and yesterday's fall no more than the facts call for, also have their task if they have any pride of opinion or any regard for consistency. Why should the Grangers fall on good crop news? Why should the coalers suffer no more than others with their prosecution or persecution so conspicuous, with every warrant to believe that the campaign will turn upon the questions involved? Why should the tractions, besides Brooklyn, fall without any specific cause? Of course, the answer is that it is merely a traders' market, with the fluctuations. unimportant to those not compelled to trade. Some time the list will respond to legitimate considerations. Meanwhile abstention from business by all but the spryest sort of traders is the dictate of prudence.

Money was easier and sterling was firmer, but probably the indications of turther gold exports are offset to some, extent by Paris's less keen demand for gold in London. Weakness in the produce markets was the natural response to a weekly crop report more favorable to Owing to a more or less general miscon grains than to cotton. The staple may ception of the meaning of the expressi also be sustained by favorable inferences 'crossed " applied in this column yesterfrom the current auction showing a bet-ter demand and better prices than some ban bonds at 98%, the statement was inter-$180,760,639; balances, $8,556,578; United had expected. Final Reorganization Plane Discusse $1,600,000 Cash to Speyer & Co. A meeting of the various parties inter-ested in the rehabilitation of the Consolidated Lake Superior Company's properties was held in the offices of the Canadian Improvement Company, which is to under-write the securities of the Lake Superior corporation, successor to the Consolidated Lake Superior Company, at 100 Broadway, ay afternoon. Preparations made for the final steps incident to the The Speyer syndicate loan of $5,050,000 taken care of first of all, and is to be $1,600,000 cash will be paid to Speyer & Co. to-morrow, as matters stand now. This represents the share of the loan held by Speyer & Co. and their associates who do not care to take the securities of the new company. The balance of the loan will be paid in securities of the Lake Superior corporation, and the completion of the transaction will place the securities of the subsidiary Lake Superior companies back in the hands of the reorganizers.

TRENTON, May 24 .- The Lake Superio Corporation, with an authorized capital of $40,000,000, was incorporated here to-day. The company is empowered to construct and operate canals and to do general con-struction work. Incorporators: Charles E. Orvis, Edward White, and W. F. Hobbie, all of Jersey City.

Franklin Trust Company of Brooklyn Gives Notice of Withdrawal.

The Franklin Trust Company, at Montague and Clinton Streets, Brooklyn, vesterday gave notice of its intention to leave the New York Clearing House on May 26, and that after that date it would clear all ts checks over its own counters.

The Franklin is the first Brooklyn Trust Company to leave the Clearing House on account of the reserve regulation. There are now three Manhattan trust companies clearing through the Clearing House eight Brooklyn companies, and one in Bay Discussion of the proposition to found a State trust companies' association has de-veloped that at least one large Manhattan institution will not join in the proposed move. Its President, who desired his name not to be used, said yesterday that he did not see that the association would place the trust companies in any more favorable position than they occupy at present, and that he considered them plenty strong enough to take care of themselves as in-dividuals.

Two More Members of the Exchange Give Up Their Seats.

Two more members left the Consolidated Stock Exchange yesterday. They were Howard Bayley, of 52 Broadway, and J. H. Goldberg, of 60 Broadway, both of whom stated emphatically when questioned about their leaving the Board that they had re signed and disposed of their seats. Bayley said in explanation of his Mr.

move that he wanted to extend his busi-It is understood that the plan of the Consolidated Exchange authorities of reducing membership by purchasing seats of members will be carried on until about fifty members have severed their con-nection with that body.

CUBAN AND JAPANESE BONDS. The trading in Cuban bonds yesterday was the feature of the outside market, with total sales amounting to $275,000, with prices ranging from 98%, an advance of 1/2, to 98%, with the close at 98%, a net gain of %. The next most active bonds were the new Japanese fis, which were weak, owing to the reported heavy losses of the Japa nese. They declined ¼ below the subscrip tion price, to 93%, with the final sale a frac-tion higher, at a net loss of ½.

General Reaction in Prices Disappoints the Traders.

Sharp Decline in Steel-Chicago Ter minal at Low Record Prices-Foreign Exchange Firmer.

The stock market yesterday showed such complete change from the favorable con ditions with which the week opened that even the traders were disappointed, not to say surprised. Transactions were smaller and prices with very few exceptions lower the declines in many issues being suffi-clent to wipe out the improvement scored on Monday. The market seemed to take its initiative from London, despite the fact that the trading here for London account amounted to almost nothing. Prices for American stocks, however, came lower from London after the three days' holiday there and this was something of a damper or local sentiment. It had been hoped that the strength shown by the market here would be reflected in the London market. but there was evidently no disposition there to carry the advance any further. Poor Trade Conditions Depress Steel. United States Steel was one of the heav-

1½ points net, closing within an eighth of the lowest at 53%. The common declined to on small transactions. Low Record in Chicago Terminal. Liquidation by a large holder of the comany's securities was one of the reason given for the weakness of the stocks and onds of the Chicago Terminal Transfer Company, which yesterday sold at record low prices. The reports to the effect that the road had failed to secure an additional tenant for its terminal property in Chicago upon which the management had counted was denied. In some quarters the decline in the company's earnings was said to suf-ficiently explain the weakness of the se-curities, which have only a narrow mar-ket, especially under present conditions. The common yesterday sold down to 5½, the preferred to 13%, and the 4s to 72%, the net loss in each of the stocks being in excess of 2 points, while the net decline in the bonds was 3% points. The trading was limited in all three issues.

Declining Tendency in Money Rates.

Demand for money yesterday was even smaller than usual of late, and rates for all periods were easier. Call loans were made from 1% per cent. down to 1% per/cent. Under the recently issued call for 10 per ent. of the Government deposits in the cent. of the Government deposits in the National banks there will be paid into the Sub-Treasury to-day about $10,000,000, thus reducing the funds available in the money market, but this was in no way re-flected in rates. Foreign exchange was somewhat firmer, the price of demand sterling closing at 4.8680 bid, an advance of about 10 points. There were still in the market some offerings of long bills, but their volume was not harge as was evi-denced by the firmer tone of exchange.

FOR SALE-TO LET.

A Deed in the chain of title to your real estate

May have been forged. May have been made by a married man whose wife did not sign.

May have been made by an attorney in fact whose power was void.

May have been signed by a wife who was at the time a minor.

The title may have come through a foreclosure sale in which all parties in interest were not joined.

None of these things may happen in your title, but they are not only possible, but frequent in real estate titles. We may know no more than you regarding some of these things, but having found out all we are able to, we CAN and WILL guarantee you against what neither of us can find out.

BAER SAYS THE LORD TAMMANY ATTACKS WOODBURY. Aldermen Kill an Appropriation and Say They'll Make Him Quit.

What was openly declared to be the be-ginning of a bitter warfare against Comer Woodbury of the Department of Street Cleaning by the Tammany members of the Board of Aldermen was started yes-terday when the Committee on Finance of the board reported, with recommendations the board reported, with recommendations to reject, an approprisition of $314,200, made for the department for a new plant for Manhattan and the Bronx. By a vote of 44 to 18 this report was adopted and the appropriation killed. — During the debate Commissioner Wood-bury was bitterly attacked, and later on the Tammany members declared they would drive him out of the department. Mayor McClellan will back the Commis-sioner to the end. When the Finance Committee report was received Alderman Doull said: "Wood-bury demands more money and does less service than any head of any department in the city service. Ten years ago Waring required but $3,000,000 for the department, but now Woodbury, for the same terrifory, needs $4,000,000. — Dull also declared that Woodbury had publicly referred to the Board of Aldermen as "an illiterate, body of rum-soaked burs."

Mr. Walter said that during his Presi-dency the Lehigh Railroad Company had paid the coal company from 60 to 65 per cent. of the tidewater price. At one time the coal company's production cost was on the basis of 60 per cent. to the miner and 40 per cent. to the company. In 1900 the proportion was changed to 65 and 35 per cent.

40 per cent. to the company. In 1901 the proportion was changed to 65 and 35 per cent.
Mr. Shearn strove to show that the coal company and the railroad were practically the same, the road owning the stock of the mining company and loaning to it, when its business was done at a loss, the amount of the loss. Mr. Walter insisted that the credit of the coal company was good, and that it could borrow money on its own credit. It had borrowed money from the road as a matter of self-protection. Questioned as to how the business of his company would retain its former carrying and been threatened, he said that there was talk about the building of another railroad, the New York. Wyoming and Western. He had signed no papers until he knew where he was coming out. His company would retain its former carrying tonnage, and that was what he was after. In answer to questions, Mr. Walter said that the company or any of the other roads as to their output. He said that the warn of the other roads as to the rout as the the two the valey had not entered into an agreement which bound the company or any of the other roads as to their output. He said that the understanding based on the territory and the number of collieries naturally tributary to the various roads. There was no idea of restricting trade.

Dr. W. E. Woodend of the firm of Wo & Co., Receiver Abraham Gruber asked the Commissioner for an order calling upon R. D. Rumley, Dr. Woodend's former cashier and manager, to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt of court for declining to answer questions while on the witness stand. Commissioner Hitchcock said he would issue the order to-day.

Mr. Rumley was recalled as soon as the proceedings opened, and was the only witness of the day. Prior to going on the stand he held a conference with Dr. Woodend, who attended the hearing dressed in tan suit, tan hat, tan shirt, tan gloves, and tan shoes. His first refusal to answer came when Mr. Gruber asked him if it was not a fact that a partnership existed between Woodend & Co. and the Hadden-Rodee Company, a Milwaukee brokerage concern "Why do you refuse to answer this ques tion?" asked Mr. Gruber.

"Because it would be a breach of confi dence for me to do so," Rumley replied. His other refusals occurred when Mr Gruber was questioning him regarding the basis on which the firm did business with various Stock Exchange firms, and the identity of various accounts on the books of the firm, designated only by numerals or code words. The witness said the firm did business with its customers on the basis of one-eighth, and in some cases one-sizteenth of 1 per cent. on each 100 shares of stock dealt in. Part of this business, Rumley said, was transacted througn Stock Exchange houses that charged one-eighth of 1 per cent. commission. "How could you make any profit at that rate?" asked Mr. Gruber. "I don't know that the firm could make any," he replied. "Is it not a fact that some of the Stock Exchange houses gave back a rebate on commissions which Woodend & Co. had previously paid them?" "I decline to answer that question be-cause it would be a breach of confidence," said Mr. Rumley. or code words. The witness said the firm

KRONPRINZ'S FAST RUN.

Liner Might Have Made a Record but for a Foggy Day.

The officers of the North German Lloyd liner Kronprinz Wilhelm, which arrived here yesterday from Bremen, were be-moaning the fact that the vessel had had one very foggy day during the run from the other side, else they said she would have established a new record for the westward voyage. As it was, the vesse steamed the total distance of 8,138 miles from Cherbourg Breakwater to the Sandy from Cherbourg Breakwater to the Sandy Hook Lightship in 5 days 20 hours and 59 minutes, at an average rate of 22.26 miles an hour. Among the passengers on the Krohprinz were F. von Wagenheim, the German Min-ister to Mexico, and his Military Attaché, Lieut. Robert Sommerhof; Dr. Eugen Wag-ner, Prof. Cornelius Rubner, and Mrs. Frank Damrosch.

Delayed Too Long to Get Divorce.

Having delayed more than five years, the statutory limit, to begin suit against her husband for divorce, Mrs. Jane Howe was told by Justice MacLean yesterday that he would not grant a decree in her case. The action was tried in December last, and it action was tried in December last, and it was shown by witnesses that George V. Howe, the husband, had deserted his wite three weeks after their marriage, and had married a second woman without divorcing the first. Howe admitted this on the wit-ness stand, but the fact developed later that Mrs. Howe had brought the suit after the statutory limit had expired, so Justice MacLean yesterday practically threw the case out of court.
